HOUSE  HERAS

Designer Rugs and House of Heras come together in a collection that reimagines Art Deco elegance for contemporary interiors. The Axminster Carpet collection draws on the glamour and rhythm of the era, expressed through soft geometry, refined pattern and layers of rich texture. Each design feels both confident and considered, bringing a sense of depth, movement and quiet luxury to the floor.

Balancing timeless appeal with a bold decorative point of view, the collection is designed to elevate a wide range of spaces. In residential settings, it introduces warmth, character and a polished sense of individuality.

In commercial environments, it offers visual impact with the versatility to complement beautifully resolved interior schemes. The result is a collection that feels expressive yet enduring, distinctive yet easy to live with.

With its sophisticated palette, elegant motifs and luxurious underfoot presence, Axminster Carpet invites you to make a statement without overwhelming a space. Each design has been conceived to work seamlessly across classic and modern interiors alike, offering the flexibility to suit your vision. Customisation options are available, allowing each piece to be tailored for a more personal design outcome.
